West Chester, Pa. – On April 19 and 30, Harrie Samaras will be teaching two three-hour CLE courses at the Chester County Bar Association. The courses, geared to attorneys and business managers alike, are entitled “ADR Survey – Tips for Using ADR” and “Negotiating with Confidence”.

Harrie will be teaching the courses with Judy Weintraub, both founders of Advanced Business Law Resources. The courses pack practical tips and information into their three-hour format. Attendees taking the course “ADR Survey – Tips for Using ADR” will gain a solid understanding of the most common ADR options, the pros and cons of each, considerations for choosing which one to utilize, criteria for choosing a neutral, and how to participate effectively in the different ADR processes. Attendees taking the “Negotiating with Confidence” course will acquire the knowledge and skills to build their confidence and enhance their negotiating ability to obtain the best results for their clients.

Harrie is an experienced ADR Neutral and attorney who is knowledgeable about ADR processes from her experience as a Neutral, representing clients in ADR processes and as in-house counsel responsible for the management and resolution of complex commercial cases. As both in-house and outside counsel she has negotiated scores of agreements, including licenses and settlement agreements.
