Harrie Samaras to Serve on Advisory Council of the Franklin Pierce Center for Intellectual Property of the University of New Hampshire School of Law

West Chester, Pa. – Harrie Samaras was asked to serve on the Advisory Council of the Franklin Pierce Center for Intellectual Property of the University of New Hampshire School of Law.

Launched recently in the fall of 2010, the University of New Hampshire School of Law's Franklin Pierce Center for Intellectual Property (“the Franklin Pierce Center”) builds on the work and established reputation (since 1973) of the original Franklin Pierce Law Center. In partnering with industry and governments around the world, the Franklin Pierce Center will become a global hub for the intersection of intellectual property (IP) and economic development. As a pioneer in integrating IP studies into legal education, the Franklin Pierce Center offers students the practical experience needed to handle innovation in today's complex environment.

This is an exciting time of transition for the Franklin Pierce Center and the University of New Hampshire School of Law. Harrie looks forward to serving on the Center’s new Advisory Council to offer ideas and recommendations to the faculty and leadership of the Franklin Pierce Center on matters including academic programs, career tracks, development opportunities, and interfacing opportunities with courts, governmental groups and foundations, nationally and internationally.
